ACCIDENT ON SUBMARINE.

Crew of 11 Men Had a Narrow Escape
—Finally Raised the Boat.

Portsmouth, Eng., Oct. 17.—The crew of 16 men on board submarine boat No. 4 had a remarkably narrow escape yesterday. The boat was engaged in diving practice off Spithead and was submerged when water leaked through the exhaust pipe and caused an accumulation of gas. A slight explosion followed, damaging the machinery. The crew, however, managed to raise the vessel, which came up stern first. A government gunboat nearby went to her assistance and saved all the crew. The submarine was towed in here for repairs.

The boat sank this morning, before she could be dry-docked. All efforts to raise the vessel have so far proved fruitless. No one was aboard when she took the unexpected plunge.

TREMENDOUS WELCOME.

Gov. Folk Spoke in Philadelphia Last Evening.

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 17.—The great battle between the local republican organization and the city party, the municipal reform organization recently formed here, was enlisted yesterday by the visit of Governor Folk of Missouri, who last night addressed a large and enthusiastic audience in the Academy of Music. He spoke under the auspices of the City club, which claims no connection with the city party. The crowd was so great that the doors of the academy were closed before the meeting began. Several thousand persons who could not get in were addressed by city party speakers. Governor Folk also spoke. When he entered the Academy the entire audience stood up to welcome him.

EXCUSED HERSELF TO DIE.

New York Boarding House Mistress
Commits Suicide.

New York, Oct. 17.—While her boarders were at dinner yesterday Mrs. Caroline Buehler of St. George, S. I., suddenly excused herself and going to her room shot herself through the head with a revolver. When Mrs. Buehler left the table her daughter, Maud, followed her up stairs and asked her if she was ill. Mrs. Buehler replied that she was tired of life and was going to kill herself, and the girl, thinking that her mother was only joking, returned to the dining room. A moment later a shot was heard and when the door of the room was opened Mrs. Buehler was found dead. It is supposed that she had become despondent through grief over the death of her four-year-old son, who was accidentally killed last winter.

Last night the father visited the son's houseboat, where the mother was stopping. The father had a butcher knife with him and, according to the statement made by the son, was about to attack Mrs. Bevin when the young man rushed out and shot. The son gave himself up.

FOR BUTTER COLORING.

Coal Tar Dye Was Used, Says Chief Chemist Wiley.

Washington, Oct. 17.—That samples of butter submitted as portions of a large quantity supplied to the League island navy yard at Philadelphia proved to be colored with coal-tar dye, is the substance of a report which Chief Chemist Wiley of the department of agriculture will submit to Secretary Wilson. Specimens were recently taken for analysis from the League island navy yard hospitals, kitchens and barracks, from the United States receiving ship Lancaster and other navy craft by representatives of the Pennsylvania dairy and food commission, samples from the men who sold the product. Secretary Wilson will refer the report to President Roosevelt, who will in all probability, call the attention of the department of justice to the matter.

The samples already had been submitted to the state dairy and food commissioner of Pennsylvania, whose findings which caused a widespread controversy are corroborated by Dr. Wiley. Dr. Wiley declined to discuss his report pending its submission to the secretary. He said that coal tar dyes, though unwholesome, are not particularly harmful.

STARTED AS A "BREAKER".

John J. Pallas Rose to High Positions.

New York, Oct. 17.—John J. Pallas, president of the park board and park commissioner for the Boroughs of Manhattan and Richmond, died suddenly last night from an acute attack of cardiac dilation, resulting from kidney trouble with which he has been a sufferer for some time. For the past two weeks he has been ill, but made occasional visits to his office. He went there yesterday and was driven to the house of a friend, where he died within a few hours.

Commissioner Pallas started life as a "breaker" boy in the Pennsylvania coal mines. He learned the trade of pattern maker when a lad, and early became interested in the unions, through his affiliations with the unions. Soon he became well known in Scranton as the western part of the State as a labor advocate.

He came to New York and was elected president of the Central Federated union and of the New York State section of the workman's federation.

"BLACK HAND"
SPEAKS OUTIn Explosion Which Shocks
Section of New York.

TERRIFYING MANY PEOPLE

Refusal by Italian Storekeepers to Turn Over Money Resulted in Carrying Out of Threat Early This Morning.

New York, Oct. 17.—Following the receipt of two "black hand" letters, demanding money under threats of death, the grocery store of Giambalvo Brothers at 13th and Station streets, was dynamited early today. The explosion blew out the front of the store, rocked the five-story tenement above it so violently that the occupants were hurled from their beds, shattered every pane of glass in the block of tenements between Christie street and the Bowery and created a panic for blocks around.

The explosion is believed to have been caused by a seventeen-year-old boy who was seen near the store just before it occurred. It is thought that he placed a bomb at the door of the store. No one was injured.

TERRIFIC EXPLOSIONS.

One Man Probably Fatally Hurt at Erie, Pa., Last Night.

Erie, Pa., Oct. 17.—Two terrific explosions at the main supply house of the Pennsylvania Gas company, just outside the city, early last evening, have cut off the complete supply of all natural gas used for heating and lighting in the city. One man, the gas house tender, Benjamin Donovan, aged 26 years, is in a hospital not expected to live, and his little son, Neil Donovan, aged four years, is so badly burned that his recovery is doubtful. Mrs. Mary Donovan, his wife, was burned in escaping from the residence that was wrapped in flames the instant the gas house exploded.

The accident was caused through a bonfire that the gas tender started in his yard to burn a pile of rubbish. He had started the fire close to a large natural gas supply pipe, eight inches in diameter, and in which a small leak let the gas escape so that it communicated with the bonfire. As the pipe exploded, Donovan was hurled against the gas house that burst into flames. His face and hands were peeled clear of skin by flames, but he was not knocked unconscious, and his first thought was for his little son, Neil, who had been standing in the midst of the flames.

CHURCH BLOWN UP BY GAS.

Janitor Was Looking for Leak With a Candle.

Pittsburg, Oct. 17.—The First Presbyterian church at McKees Rocks, a suburb, was blown up by natural gas yesterday and the entire building was demolished. The explosion is said to have been the result of a leak in the basement of the building, which was sought by the janitor with a lighted candle.

David Leader, the janitor, was badly burned by the flash of flames and was caught under the crumbling walls, but was not fatally hurt. The loss was about $500.

It was also learned yesterday on good authority that Wm. H. McIntyre, the former fourth vice president of the Equitable, will return as soon as his testimony is needed by the committee.

Fever Is Dying Out.

New Orleans, La., Oct. 17.—The first practical evidence of the approach of the wind up of the yellow fever fight here was the issuance of an order by Surgeon White yesterday consolidating several of the up-town wards, and materially reducing the forces in that section.

Of the three deaths yesterday, one occurred in Algiers, the patient being the wife of the Rev. Mr. Niernman, a well known Lutheran minister. There were 15 new cases yesterday.

TWO SURVIVE
OUT OF EIGHTTerrible Suffering of Gale-driven Seamen.

OFF THE CAROLINA COAST

Their Schooner Was Beaten to Pieces and Crew Were Either Washed Overboard or Hurled Themselves Into Sea.

Boston, Oct. 17.—The tale of a shipwreck in which eight seamen suffered so fearfully from exposure, hunger and thirst that six of them either died outright, were washed away, or crazed by their fearful experience hurled themselves into the sea, was brought out yesterday by the two survivors of the coasting schooner Van Name and King of New Haven, which was beaten to pieces by a gale off the South Carolina coast on October 6.

The two men who were rescued by the schooner Stillman P. Kelley, which arrived here late yesterday, are William Thomas and William G. Warner. The six who, one by one, succumbed were Captain William A. Maxwell, Mate E. A. Chase, engineer, colored steward, colored seamen William Grizell and Alfred Arthur.

RAGED FOUR DAYS.

Storm in North Sea Known to Have Caused 25 Deaths.

Hamburg, Oct. 17.—A terrific storm, accompanied by rain and hail, has been raging in the North sea for four days. Many vessels have foundered or been damaged and twenty-five sailors are known to have been lost. The harbor of Cuxhaven is filled to overflowing with vessels seeking shelter. The coasting trade has been completely suspended.

CONCORD VISITED BY FIRE.

Damage Early This Morning Amounts to $30,000.

Concord, N. H., Oct. 17.—Concord was visited this morning by a $30,000 fire. The blaze started shortly after midnight in the rear of a two story wooden structure on Warren street, opposite the police station, owned by Frank G. Batchelder and occupied by C. W. Dammum, electrician; W. H. Bragg & Co., upholsterers; W. D. Nutting, watch repairer, and the office of Rowell & Plummer, masons.

The origin of the fire was in the rear of the structure, in the part occupied by the Aldine stables, the cause being unknown. It was one of the smokiest fires in the city's history. A strong wind was blowing and it was necessary to pull in a second alarm, calling out all the apparatus in the city.

The fire soon spread from the wooden building to the four-story brick building next door, owned and occupied by Mrs. Irving Pickering as a furniture store, and the large four-story brick building on Durgin lane owned by Welch & Sullivan and occupied by them in the basement of the first floor as a wholesale liquor store. The second floor was a vacant pool room, the third and fourth floors being occupied as storerooms by the two local companies. The military companies succeeded in getting out all the ammunition and what few Krag rifles that belonged to them. Nothing else was saved.

"NO DEFINITE SITE."

Says Dr. Caverly, for Erection of State
Tuberculosis Sanitarium.

Rutland, Oct. 17.—"No definite site has been yet agreed upon," said Dr. C. S. Caverly when asked concerning the sanitarium for incipient tuberculosis to be erected and endowed by Senator Redfield Proctor. He added that during the last few weeks men have been investigating locations in the northern and eastern parts of the state. Probably before a decision is made the investigators will go over ground quite near this city, for there are admirable locations in Shrewsbury, Cavendish and Ludlow. A site will surely be selected before the cold weather sets in so that the building may be started early next spring.

To the users of Dodge's water: The water will be shut off for about an hour tomorrow and Thursday afternoons.

MR. HOAR OBJECTED.

So He Gets Injunction Against Telephone Company.

An injunction was drawn up today against the Vermont Telephone and Telegraph company to stop them from further work in putting up guys and wire on a new pole which they put up last week in the driveway leading into R. A. Hoar's barn on East street. It seems that when the gang of workmen went there to put in the pole Mr. Hoar understood that the pole was to be put in the place of the old one which stands just below the driveway. But the men went to work and put it up several feet above the old one and in the driveway. On being asked by Mr. Hoar to remove it they refused, saying they had gotten permission to erect the pole there from the city authorities.

Mr. Hoar claims that the city has no authority to designate the setting of poles where they will be a menace to the right of the property owner. The injunction has been signed by Judge Watson of Montpelier. It is said that the company has been around this afternoon and promised to remove the pole.

HAD A FAMILY "POW WOW."

Eugene Densmore and Wife of Chelsea
Gave a Performance.

Chelsea, Oct. 17.—Main street was the scene of a most disgraceful family "pow wow" Sunday afternoon, when Mr. and Mrs. Eugene E. Densmore indulged in a horsehip combat. The trouble arose out of determination on the part of each to maintain for the day the immediate custody of one of their small children, the parents having dissolved partnership several months ago. After a thorough test of the persuader each went away rejoicing, the mother retaining the custody of the child and the father the custody of the whale-bone.

On Monday afternoon at a hearing before Justice C. S. Emery at the county clerk's office, Mr. Densmore pleaded guilty to one plain drunk, first offense, and to a breach of the peace, and for the companion violations paid a grand total of $21.40. Grand Juror E. D. Barnes, assisted by Attorney G. L. Stowe, prosecuted the case, and the respondent was defended by Messrs. Darling and Wilson.

MADE A SLIGHT MISTAKE.

Vermonters in Worcester, Mass., Asylum
Thought He Was in Worcester, Vt.

Nashua, N. H., Oct. 17.—Daniel Hannon, a Vermontor who has visited this city and is a brother of John Hannon, a well known citizen, was committed to the Worcester insane hospital Saturday. The patient is 64 years old and is of striking appearance. His hair is nearly two feet long and his beard longer than his hair and very full. When the Worcester police got him, he had on his person $100 in good money and some $6,000 in old state bank bills which were not good when the Civil War broke out.

He appeared, acting queerly, on the streets of Worcester and also to be deaf and dumb. The Worcester police communicated with his brother in this city and a sister in Vermont. His brother here answered that Daniel had money enough to take care of himself. John Hannon said that, if necessary, however, he would provide for him. The aged man found no fault with being committed to the Worcester asylum, but thought all the time he was in Worcester, Vt.

PROCTORS TAKE POSSESSION.

Of Marble Works at Belden, Because of Poor Payment.

Middlebury, Oct. 17.—It is understood here that the Vermont Marble company of Proctor on Saturday night took possession of the marble works at Belden's, recently run for several years by the Sterling Marble company of Boston. The Proctor company several months ago purchased this property subject to the lease of the Sterling company, who are said to have defaulted on rent, which gave the Vermont company a chance to take possession. The new owners will greatly enlarge and improve the plant and put a large force of men at work to assist in getting out stock for some of their heavy pending contracts.

DERRICK CUT
SHED IN TWOWith a Narrow Escape For Several Workmen.

ANDREW BARCLAY HURT

Granite Cutting Plant Wrecked by Fall of 70-Foot Mast and Boom While Ten Ton Stone Was Being Lifted.

The seventy-foot derrick in the yard at the more northerly of the old Barclay circles, at the foot of Granite street, fell at a few minutes before four o'clock yesterday afternoon, crashing through the shop of Andrew Barclay, ripping the roof and walls away as easily as if they had been pasteboard. Several men were working in the shop at the time and Andrew Barclay and James Marr were directly under the part of the roof that the derrick struck first. They both jumped aside, however, and escaped being struck by any of the heavy rigging, although a piece of broken timber and smaller debris hit Mr. Barclay about the head cutting him considerably. None of the bruises will prove serious.

The big stick landed on a stone that was being cut by a man who, as it happened, was not at work yesterday afternoon, which was most fortunate for him, as he would probably have received serious if not fatal injuries. The part of the shed which is down flat is the boxing room, and there is not often any one in it until after four o'clock. Had there been any one there at the time there would have been no possible way of escape.

The derrick, which is capable of lifting 60 tons, is joined to the derrick in the middle circle by a steel wire guy, and it seems that this guy has been chafing against a cross wire until it was worn away except a few strands, although this was not noticed until after the damage had been done.

A big base weighing ten tons and measuring nearly ten feet square was being moved just before four o'clock, and the men had just stepped out of the way of the stone as it was being swung around, when the guy joining the two derricks snapped. The big stick gave such a recoil under the weight of the ten tons of granite that it threw the bottom of the mast out of the socket at its base. Then the whole thing came down with a bang, the mast crashing through the center of the circular shed, and the boom with its ten tons of stone coming down at an angle of about 30 degrees with the mast. The short stick, however, lacked about three feet of being long enough to hit the shed, which was most fortunate, for if it, with the huge block of stone, had broken into the building loss of life would have been almost inevitable. Men were at work in the yard in range of the derrick, and that no one was injured except Mr. Barclay is a wonder.

The derrick and building are owned by L. J. Bolster, and the derrick will be set up and the shed repaired immediately. Except for a few scratches, the woodwork of the big sticks was not hurt, but the casting which held the boom to the mast at the foot of each is broken off. Mr. Findlater, who was working about the derrick, also had an exceedingly narrow escape. He felt the derrick give way and thought it was simply the boom. Then he heard the whole thing crashing down and ducked just in time to escape the mast. It was his stone which was being moved.

A YOUNG INVENTOR.

Nephew of Fred B. Mudgett Perfects
Wireless Telegraph System.

The Oakland, Cal., Tribune contains a sketch of Fred Mudgett of Alameda, Cal., a nephew of Fred B. Mudgett of this city, and tells of the young man's genius. He has perfected a system of wireless telegraphy which has been a great success. The Tribune says: "Young Mudgett has shown a marked aptitude for studies in electrical science, and following the experiments of Marconi, he built a station in the tower of the Alameda City Hall, and has carried on his telegraphy without wires with marvelous results. Mudgett, who is barely nineteen years of age, succeeded through his system in communicating with the Farallones, Mare Island, Goat Island and with government vessels entering the harbor of San Francisco. He is now taking an electrical course at the University of California, to perfect himself in this branch of scientific inquiry."
